Nearly all new comers suffer from it more or less, without taking any exercise at all beyond that ordinarily required; and many people cannot endure it without aliarming symptoms of heart-failure, some being obliged to turn about and go back to the lowlands, even before they have reached so high an allitude as this. None of our party have entirely escaped the dreaded surroche, F., the youngest and most delicate member, being kept in bed several days by it. The feeling is anything but agreeable, as if one's over-taxed heart were about to jump out of its earthly tenement and quit work altogether, while the head seems ready to burst with excess of blood; terrible pains dart through the temples, respiration is extremely difficult, dark spots swim before the eyes, and, overpowered by dizziness, the sufferer finds it impossible to stand. In these equatorial regions, you know, and especially in high places, the winter time of the pear. The air is as balmy as that of a Canadian June, the skies as blue as those of "Naples, the beautiful," refreshing showers fall nearly every night, and fruits and flowers are at their very beat. In this delightful weather, then, while the friends at home are shivering around their flresides, we ought to enjoy our pasce is a walk, or excursion is here called) samong the flowery paries of Hopota, unburdened by wraps and armed with fans and parasols.

The principal plaza, named in honor of the patrio, sinox bolivas, whose statue stands in the middle, comes first in our way. It occupies the exact centre of the town, and extends eighty metres in every direction. The "counter-feit presentment" of the liberator, the colossal statue in bronze, is a magnificent work, which was executed by the celebrated sculptor, Tenerami, and presented to Colombia (then New Granada) by Schor Jose Ignacio Patris, a gentleman prominent in local politics, who at that time had the presidential bee burzing loudly in his bonnet.

The figure is attired in the alleged military costume which nobody on earth everwore but statues, its trailing robe, something like that which disfigures the marble cariconture of pour Lincoln in the capitol at Washington, a cross between Roman toga, Spanish closak and bed sheet, adorned with elaborate embroidery. The head is uncortained on three sides by the college of Merced ("Me

The head is uncovered, the right hand holds a rapier, and on the breast is a beautiful medallion of George Washington, the father of Republics.

The great Holivar, Colombia's first president, who did so much towards shaping the destinies of South America, and in whose honor the republic of Bolivia was named, was a genius in his day. The Congress of the nations of the three Americas, which has lately been making the grand tour of the United States, was the out come of an idea originated by him, as far tack as the year ISE.
